TUCSON - Despite a last minute location change, the Arizona Pageants Miss Gay Tucson contest took place at Rumor Hazzit last Sunday, June 7 without incident and to a packed house.

Three contestants were entered into this years contest, Candy Plastique, Jacquleen De Savoi and Tabitha Scott. When the dust had settled at the end of the evening of presentations and entertainment, Tabitha Scott was named Miss Gay Tucson III, with Jacquleen De Savoi as First Runner-Up and Candy Plastique as Second Runner-Up. Miss Gay Tucson received flowers and a first place prize of $100 and is now eligible to enter the Miss Gay Arizona Pageant later this year as well as the Miss Gay America Pageant also to be held later this year.

Mark Bouvier and Roger Barger worked furiously for three days prior to this year's Pageant to assure its success, and the outstanding success of this event is due to their efforts. Rob Thorne and Jay Murillo of the Phoenix-based Arizona Pageants have expressed their congratulations to these two Tucsonans for their hard work in planning and execution, as well as all the people, clubs and organizations that they recruited to carry out the event that ran so smoothly.

Miss Gay Tucson II, Miss Aviva Diamond relinquished her reigning crown to Tabitha Scott in an emotional ceremony on stage. Scott had been sponsored by Colette's West, and when she was announced as winner pandemonium broke out.

The large crowd was treated to an evening of great entertainment provided by a cast of performers from both Tucson and Phoenix. They included: Miss Gay

Tucson II Aviva Diamond; the reigning Miss Gay Arizona, Jamie De Sario and Rhannon, the current Miss Gay Phoenix. Others were Bobbi Jo, Nicole Leigh, Penelope Poupe and Lady Casandra. Co-MC's for the evening were Lady Casandra and Monte-Jon Gilmer.

The three contestants were presented in a variety of gowns and costumes - white formal wear, contemporary fashions, evening wear as well as performing in a talent contest. All three contestants had the audience applauding and screaming for their favorites throughout the evening and the judges decision was not an easy one. All three presented themselves as professionals and it is unfortunate that there could be only one winner.

Arizona Pageants is to be congratulated for their choice of judges. They were a very diverse group of people from Tucson and Phoenix and they proved to be able to carry the evening's decision of winners off without any animosity from anyone, which unfortunately is the case in many contests of this type. The judges are to be especially congratulated for a job very well done. They include, nationally known entertainer and recording artist Rusty Warren; Gloria Ryan, tax expert and accountant; Mr. Chuck Moore of the Arizona Wedding Guide; Wanda Rock, Nationally known sex educator and Connie Roey, former judge for Patricia Stevens modeling.

All in all, Arizona Pageants is to be congratulated as well as their Tucson representatives for producing a program such as this which lends credibility to titles that is so often viewed as not legitimate or not genuine.

TOUCHING AS HEALING

by Marc Haberman, BA, MT
Touching today is more important than ever. With the increasing stress of living in our society, AIDS and other concerns, we need to maintain a nurturing environment. Most of us are not touched enough. Touch actually helps build the immune system, and adds to our self-esteem.

The easiest way to have more of a nurturing touch is to hug, hug, hug. Be assertive. Hugging is a real exchange of energy. It is safer than sex and feels almost as good.

A better form of touch is massage. Massage is great. It is very therapeutic because it improves the circulation, releases toxins from the lymphatic system, stimulates the nervous system and is very relaxing. If you have never had a professional massage, you are missing one of the finer things in life. Massage is not a luxury. It is very healing. It can relieve pain both physically and emotionally. It helps to integrate the person mentally, emotionally and physically through a deep state of relaxation and balancing of ones energy. Massage is very sensual, not sexual. Some people think it is better than sex. You only live once (in this lifetime), so treat yourself to a healing, loving experience.

[Marc Haberman has been a professional masseur and holistic practitioner for six years. He offers workshops in massage and does individual massage/consultations by appointment at 577-5125 or 881-4592. Try a loving experience.]

News from MCC Tucson

Last Sunday was Pentecost Sunday - and did we have a Birthday Party! The sanctuary was brightly decorated with red balloons with a large group present at our Morning Service. Instead of a regular message from Pastor Perry, there were three speakers from the congregation. Deacon Rhonda told how it is to be a Christian with her lifestyle, James talked about being a young Christian and Ben spoke on how to be a Christian with the community as a whole. After the Sunday Morning Service there was a cookout in the backyard with fun and games for everyone.

The hot summer months are now here and the new ceiling fans going in the sanctuary are keeping the temperatures more comfortable. The 'swamp coolers' are in the process of being repaired and replaced, so you can't use the excuse that "it is too hot to go to Church this morning," anymore.

On Saturday, June 20th, beginning at 9:00 a.m., everyone is invited to an All Arizona Church Picnic. This picnic will be held at the Catalina State Park just north of Tucson off U.S. Highway 89 (Oracle Road). This will be a pot-luck picnic, so bring food, soft drinks and games to share. This picnic is being sponsored by The Team and Friends of Excel In The Desert. For more information, call 323-1344 in Tucson.

Also there is a picnic/swim party being planned for June 27th for MCC/Tucson. If you haven't been to MCC/Tucson for a while and are thinking about it, now is the time to rejoin your family and friends and plan on this special day. More details will be coming up.

White House protest signals new era in AIDS activism

WASHINGTON, DC - The massive White House demonstration held Monday, June 1 (OBSERVER, June 3), to protest President Reagan's lack of leadership on AIDS signals a new era in AIDS activism, according to Vic Basile, executive director of the Human Rights Campaign Fund (HRCF), and a lead organizer of the event.

"The community is frustrated at the failure of the Executive Branch of our government to exhibit leadership in this time of peril," said Basile. "If responsible action is not forthcoming, we can expect to see more events like this in the future."

64 AIDS and Lesbian and Gay civil rights leaders, persons with AIDS, and their supporters were arrested in an act of civil disobedience during the demonstration, which attracted nearly 500 protesters and more than 150 media representatives.

"This community is fed up with the White House's lack of understanding of the real meaning of this crisis," said Jean O'Leary, executive director of the National Gay Rights Advocates, one of the members of the Coalition for Leadership on AIDS. "And the fact that so many reporters came out to hear us tells me that they are in tune with us — they see the Administration's failings almost as clearly as we do."

Monday's protest was timed to coincide with the opening of the Third International Conference on AIDS, which was held in Washington this week. It also occurred the afternoon following Reagan's announcement at an American Foundation for AIDS Research (AmFAR) fundraiser that he was instituting a policy of "routine" AIDS testing for federal prisoners, immigrants and other individuals under government jurisdiction. (OBSERVER, June 3).

The event was sponsored by the "Coalition for Leadership on AIDS," a group whose members included leaders and representatives of more than a dozen major national and local AIDS, and Gay and Lesbian civil rights groups.

Spokesperson for the event was Human Rights Campaign Fund and National Gay Rights Advocate board member Dan Bradley, who was President of the Legal Services Corporation during the Carter Administration, and the first presidential appointee ever to publicly declare his homosexuality. Bradley was diagnosed with AIDS last year, and was the driving force behind the White House protest.

The message behind the protest was that a medical "Manhattan Project on AIDS" is needed to give structure to a new national commitment to defeat the epidemic.

Besides Bradley, O'Leary and Basile, other nationally-known Gay leaders and activists who participated in the event included Leonard Matlovich, a POW who is best known for the fight to protect his right to serve in the military; Steve Schulte, mayor of West Hollywood, California; David Scordas, a Boston City Councilperson; Vivian Shapiro, board member of HRCF; Paul Boneberg, executive director of Mobilization Against AIDS; Duke Conegys, national co-chair of HRCF; Virginia Apuzzo, board member of NGLTF and a New York State official; Tim Sweeney of Gay Mens Health Crisis; Rev. Troy Perry of Metropolitan Community Church; Tim Wolfred of San Francisco AIDS Foundation; Matt Redman of AIDS Project Los Angeles; Lois Galgay Reckitt, deputy director of HRCF; Steve Endean, director of The Fairness Fund; Ralph Payne of California Community AIDS Network;

Larry Kramer, Playwright best known for "The Normal Heart"; and several members of ACTUP, a grassroots organization in New York City.

The demonstration received "massive" press coverage, including segments on all three national network news programs, and front-page coverage in dozens of newspapers. "We've started building a new momentum for getting our message through," said Boneberg. "Now we have to keep it building."

As I See It

By Bruce Fowler - Tucson

Last weekend I attended the fifteenth anniversary celebration of Dignity/Chicago. I had received a personal invitation earlier in May and since I was in the midwest anyway on family business, I decided to attend.

The celebration started with a dinner-dance at the downtown Marriott Hotel on Michigan Avenue. About 130 persons attended the formal affair in one of the hotel's five ballrooms. Several out-of-town Dignity current and former Board of Directors' members were present, as was the Gay press and several Chicago dignitaries. Mayor Washington sent a letter of appreciation and congratulations; letters and telegrams from all over North America had come in praising the Chicago chapter's 15 years of service to Illinois, the midwest and the nation. It was an impressive celebration.

On Sunday evening, some 400 to 500 people crowded into St. Sebastian's church on the Northside to attend the 15th Anniversary Mass for the chapter. The Mass was concelebrated by 12 priests. The Dignity/Chicago choir sang. That's the understatement of the week - this 40 voice mixed choir of Gays and Lesbians is one of the best choirs I've ever heard. They have several "professional" musicians in the chapter, two of whom graduated from the UofA School of Music and now are composing and performing much of the choir's music. The choir was accompanied by organ, piano, violin, bassoon, flute and two trumpets. I was impressed.

Fifteen years is a long time for any organization to provide service to its members. The national organization of Dignity is 17 years old, with the L.A. chapter being the oldest. Boston and Chicago both celebrate 15 years this year and the rest of the 100 plus chapters fall in line after that. Here in Arizona the Phoenix chapter will celebrate their 12th anniversary this year and the Tucson chapter will celebrate number 10.

Dignity, like MCC and others, has provided many years of service to the Gay and Lesbian communities in North America and Arizona is no exception. These organizations provide a support group in which Gay and Lesbian people can find acceptance and friendships. They provide an educational outreach to the larger community on issues of homosexuality and spirituality. They often work with other Gay and Lesbian groups in the community for the betterment of the community. And they also work for social justice by lobbying for changes in legislation and attitudes among various church and government bodies. To survive for 15 years, as in Chicago, or 10 years, as in Tucson, means that these organizations are doing something right.

This is the time indeed to celebrate. There is much to be upset and angry about in formal religion today, but there is also much to point to with pride. The Catholic Church is far from perfect, but the Catholics of Dignity can take pride in their hot-line outreach and weekly/monthly Mass celebrations. The Metropolitan Community Church may seem strange and distant to those not familiar with evangelism, southern style, but can anyone doubt the hard work and dedication of people like Troy Perry? Someone of whom we can all be proud. The acceptance of Gays and Lesbians on a more open basis in the Episcopal Church is a direct result of the efforts of integrity as well as the sensitivity to social justice issues by Episcopal clergy and lay alike. Yet in the formative stages, the progress being made within the Methodist, Lutheran, American Baptist and Presbyterian churches is directly related to both Gay and straight concerns for justice and equality. It's a long way yet to go, but we're at least 15 years or more into it and we can celebrate with pride the steps we've taken.

The Chicago chapter has a hymn they sing called, "We Are God's Family". It was written by one of their members and the opening goes like this:

"We sing of a place and a time where all creation shall live with dignity.

We sing of a sharing sublime; sweetest union amid diversity. We sing with our heads held high - a people awaiting the dawn. We sing with voices of pride united we celebrate our bond. We are God's family. Sons, daughters, brothers, sisters living with dignity. Bond together by God's love."

The bond that holds us together is our common union in the people that we are and we are God's Gay and Lesbian children in celebration of our personhood.

WHAT'S UP DOC?

Congratulations to Tabitha Scott, Miss Gay Tucson for 1987-88. We all hope your year will bring you a lot of happiness and many fond memories.

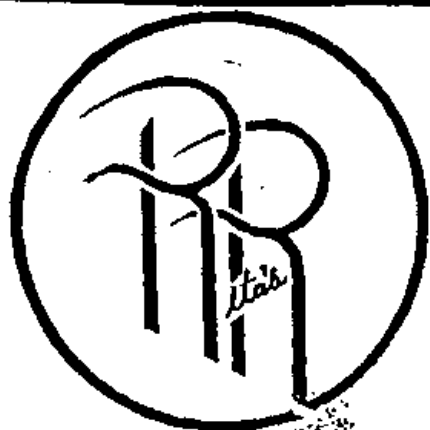

This Sunday will be a full day at the Graduate. Starting at noon, TKO, TALL and SOS will be hanging a trophy case. Afterwards, around 2:00 p.m., it will be time for a free buffet put on by the three clubs. Later on, the presidents of the different clubs of Tucson, who are taking part in the First Ladies Weekend, will be holding an auction of different art items, with the proceeds going to a needy local organization. Then on comes SOS with their ever-popular Casino Night. Finally ending the evening off, we will have Candy Plastique doing a few of her famous numbers, to entertain all of us. Yes, it's going to be a full, fun-filled day at the Graduate, so stop in and join in.

The next weekend, June 19-21, it's the First Ladies Weekend. I'm looking forward to this run because all Tucson clubs are involved, and each club is in some competition with each other for the best campsite, best table setting, and no telling what all. Then there is going to be a show put on by almost everyone. The results will probably set show business back 100 years. There is still room for you to join in on this weekend, so get in touch with one of the different club's First Ladies at either the Graduate or IBT's, or contact Rip or Gary at 790-2558.

The same Sunday that the First Ladies Weekend is over, Sunday, June 21, Gay Pride Week kicks off in Tucson with the big picnic at Himmel Park. More partying! After that week is over, it's the 4th of July weekend, and after that (so far) nothing planned. I'll finally be able to kick back, have a few cold Buds. June is a fun month with something each weekend, and I know that I'll want a rest. Now watch someone come along and screw it up. Maybe Keith and I can slip off to Mount Lemmon and hide out.

Before closing I want to praise Roger and Mark for this year's Miss Gay Tucson Pageant. With the short period of time to work with, they were able to pull others together and present probably the best pageant this state has had. If both would have had the time, I'm sure they could have filled the Little Theatre at the Community Center. Having worked on similar projects, I know

A Critics Review

Ben Corbin

The presentation of Miss Gay Tucson Pageant held at Rumor Hazzit proved to be a success as an evening of entertainment. There was standing room only when the presentation began late. How else? The three contestants were, as to be expected, extremely nervous. The atmosphere was festive and the Hors d'Oeuvres provided by the Arizona Pageant and prepared by Bucky were quite tasty. So, the delay in starting didn't really seem too long.

The duo Masters of Ceremonies, Lady Casandra and Mr. Monte-Jon, were entertaining and a bit above the average, especially when they had to ad-lib through the delay while one of the contestants was recovering from the heat. The show began with the introductions of Miss Aviva Diamond as Miss Gay Tucson II, Rhiannon as Miss Gay Phoenix II and Jamie De Sario as Miss Gay Arizona II. The three contestants were next introduced - Miss Jacquileen De Savoi as Contestant I, Tabitha Scott as Contestant II and Candy Plastique as Contestant III. Their introduction in their white gowns was stunning and I am sure was a tough decision for the judges on the points.

The show opened with Miss Aviva Diamond. Her presentation was good, the lip-sync flawless but the number proved to be too long and the audience was getting restless before the song was finished. The following act by Jamie De Sario doing Marilyn Monroe was quite startling. Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend was good, but the second number proved to be even better. I have seen better impersonations of M.M. but Jamie need take no back seat with her impersonation.

The second presentation of the contestants was for "Contemporary Fashions" and the costumes were great. The costume that Tabitha Scott wore was outstanding and the crowd went wild. Or it could have been that I was sitting too close to Colette's table. Anyway, I was duly impressed with the costume.

Rhiannon was the next entertainer, and entertain she did. The costume was stunning but a little garish, all of that gold did dazzle. Her delivery was good and I could find no visible flaws in her performance. Penelope Poupe followed with a beautiful rendition of "Over The Rainbow" (Thank Heavens it wasn't Judy). The red costume was also beautiful and her rendition was good but there was a bit too much mouth movement which made the lip-sync more obvious.

The third presentation of the contestants was "Talent Contest". What I was expecting I didn't get, and what I wasn't expecting I did get. Jacquileen De Savoi's delivery was good, the lip-sync great and she gave the audience what they wanted. Tabitha Scott followed with her rendition of "City Lights". One of the quickest and best changes during a number that I have witnessed. This number actually proved to be one of the highlights of the evening. Candy Plastique had the task of following last but being the trouper that she is, gave a good performance for the judges. The blonde wig worn in this number was distracting. The make-up used was too much for the platinum hair and made the facial features quite harsh.

Bobbi Jo followed the "Talent Contest" with one of her country/western numbers which was a change of pace from the previous numbers and proved to be refreshing. As usual, Bobbi Jo's delivery was good and her stage presence was without a blemish. Nicole Leigh following with two more country/western numbers. These also proved to be entertaining but the production manager should have spaced these two artists doing the same type of material a little further apart. Three country/western numbers, all in a row, were a bit too much and put the performers in a competing position. Lady Casandra next did a live number with the musical background. This performance was a relief from all the lip-sync's and was greatly appreciated.

The final presentation of the contestants was "Evening Gowns". This again was a hard decision for the judges. They were all outstanding, but the gown worn by Candy Plastique, designed by Miss Aviva Diamond was a work of art.

The final numbers as presented by Rhiannon and Jamie De Sario were both good delivery but there seemed to be something missing in both numbers. Whether it was the growing excitement of trying to out-judge the judges or the growing heat building up in the crowded, smoke-filled, room or both, the two numbers seemed like a let-down but I couldn't find a reason for it.

As it will be noted in other columns of this issue, Miss Tabitha Scott won the Miss Gay Tucson crown, with Jacquileen De Savoi as first runner-up and Candy Plastique as second runner-up. Congratulations Tabitha Scott, it won't be long before you stop hearing "Who's Tabitha Scott?".

This is a review column and as such should be strictly limited to the review of the performers. But in this case, I have to say we all owe Roger Barger and Bruce Pegg of Rumor Hazzit for the tasks of getting it all together in such a short time and so well.

Why we are doing this survey: We feel that community-generated information is of great value in countering myths and stereotypes. We also believe that self-definition serves to dispel these myths and stereotypes.

Instructions: The way you will answer questions is a bit easier this time around. On the bottom of this questionnaire you will find spaces numbering 1 through 50. Read the survey question and put your answer in the corresponding space on the bottom of this form. Thank you.

First Ladies Weekend June 19,20,21

TUCSON - Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 19, 20 and 21 marks a giant step for the Tucson Gay community. For the first time in Arizona, every club in one city is organizing an event to involve not only all clubs but the entire Gay community as well. In the name of brotherhood, the First Ladies of Desert Leathermen, Great Outdoors, Partners, SOS, T-Squares, TALL, TKO and the Non-Club are holding the First Annual First Ladies Brotherhood Weekend 1987.

This event, with the theme "The South's Gonna Rattle Again", will be held at Pena Blanca Resort which is about an hour south of Tucson. The weekend will be a never-ending round of activities which will include "The First Ladies Regatta" on Saturday afternoon with row boat and paddle boat races, "The First Ladies Cotillion" on Saturday night with dinner and a show, campsite activities and much more. Separate judging will be held for Best Theme Costume, Best Theme Campsite, Best Club Skit, and Best Club Table Setting.

Points will be awarded throughout the weekend with the club receiving the most points being awarded the First Ladies

Brotherhood Cup which they will hold for one year until the next First Ladies Run where it starts all over again. Individual prizes involving all participants will also be awarded. The judges for these events are tentatively set to be Bob Ellis, Jacquelyn de Savoi and Candy Plastique.

A fee of $30 will cover the entire weekend. This fee will include dinner on Friday night, breakfast, lunch dinner and show on Saturday, breakfast and the awards ceremony on Sunday along with all camping fees and participation in all events.

Applications may be picked up at the Graduate, IET's and Rumor Hazzit or by calling Rip at 790-2558 or Bill at 889-4374. Applications and fees are due by Saturday, June 13 so arrangements can be completed.

This event is being held as a means of bringing all clubs and the Tucson Gay community together in the name of brotherhood. With the entire community working together now and in the future, think how much more we can get accomplished. Despite all the difference, we are ONE!!!

WHAT'S NEW PUSSYCAT?

by Doc and Ben

The Miss Gay Tucson Pageant is now history and Tabitha Scott has been crowned to reign for the upcoming year. Competition was very good by each of the three contestants and in my book, all three were winners.

Tucson can be very proud because, with the efforts of Mark and Roger, this pageant was put together in one week's time and was very successful.

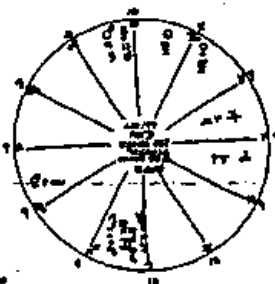

Of course, par for the course, the festivities were late getting started. I wonder what would happen if I went to work every day late. When your followers get there early, why can't the show start on time? I also wonder what would happen if the audience got up and all walked out if the show didn't start on time?

What was also very interesting was the fact that souvenir items were available (T-shirts, ball caps - both for only $5 and key chains for $1), but unless you happened to have seen them, no one knew they were available.

Of course, Ben C. was swishing through the crowd selling the key chains, but Annie and I both felt the only reason he was doing that was of the 'accidental' feels. Did you also know he has a birthday coming up the end of June? I wonder which one this will be - 88 or 98? I will give him credit, for an aging actress of his age, he does get around.

I looked down the bar at the Pageant and what a sight. There parked on their tushies were about ten drag queens, one leg over the other, in a real pretty lady pose. The legs, well I will admit I've seen worse, but that was back in the Hair Tiz days.

Stay calm folks and watch for Ben. He is carrying a tape recorder and getting material for this and other columns. He's writing next week, so be careful.

The Full Moon in Sagittarius occurs on June 11 at 1:50 p.m. Tucson time bringing that week of June Weddings and the first round of Summer Social activities that make June bust out all over.

ARIES

With Jupiter alone reigning supreme in Aries in the 7th House of this Full Moon Chart for Tucson, many local Arians will hear wedding bells and all of their other relationships both business and marital will prosper. Even divorce settlements will favor Aries this week.

TAURUS

A week to end old matters and make new beginnings. Collect overdue insurance claims, inherit a legacy, receive a beautiful gift or work of art, or give one to a younger relative.

GEMINI

Not the week for you to do any traveling. You may miss receiving important news or documents. Take care while driving and say nothing in phone conversations that might be misconstrued and held against you at a later time.

CANCER

Military affairs may take center stage now for Cancers. Rewards are due for those new ideas and you may receive a promotion or pay increase. If you are involved in competitive sporting events you will probably win this week.

LEO

Teamwork is the name of your game this week. You may be asked to join some group dedicated to humanitarian endeavors, or be elected to club office in an organization you already belong to.

Lights of Tucson

by Michael - Tucson

VIRGO

Not the best week to get caught up in your clandestine affairs, gossip or rumors may hurt you. A good week to take care of a sick friend or visit someone in prison or a hospital.

LIBRA

Your week for social leadership, parties and entertainment are high on the agenda, but it is also a time when you can be your most persuasive on a large scale. Sell the Brooklyn Bridge or whatever.

SCORPIO

Money is the name of your game this week, make it or spend it. A good time to increase your insurance coverage or buy government bonds. Examine your present budget for ways to make savings and improve your income.

SAGITTARIUS

Visit close friends, relatives and neighbors this week, take short trips for educational and entertainment purposes. You will receive news from distant places or information from foreign people.

CAPRICORN

Arguments on the home front may cause you to want to leave home, but this is not the time to do so. Your children may give you problems. Send them off to Summer Camp and ease your problems, which are really routine for you this time of year anyway.

AQUARIUS

Your week for a roll in the hay with a new partner, buy a Pick ticket or play the office pool. You may become a parent or grandparent this week. Cupid's arrow might get you when you are least expecting it.

PISCES

Time for a check-up, pay attention to details at work, this is not the time for day-dreaming if you want to hold your job. Co-workers may be stirring up gossip or working behind your back to your disadvantage. Do not get into it with the boss at this time. Stay out of the direct drafts of air conditioners to avoid summer colds now.

For personal astrological information call Michael at 327-4243 in Tucson. Michael can be seen on McCaw Cable Channel 37 Tucson every Friday at 5:00 p.m.

the amount of work, the hours of running around, the phone conversations and countless hours of lost sleep they both went through this week. Thanks guys for a hell of a good job. Now kick back and take a week off to relax.

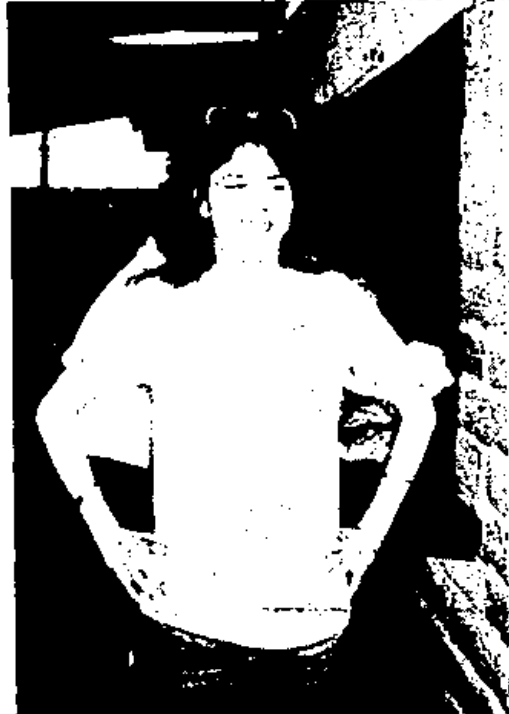

I hope everyone has a loving, safe, fun-filled week and I'll be seeing all of you in the near future.

A View From Within

A COMMENTARY BY
CHRISTOPHER GEOFFREY McPHERSON

"THE BIGOTS ARE LOSING THIS FIGHT"

Representative Barney Frank, a Massachusetts Democrat, recently announced his homosexuality in the Boston Globe, with a statement that will probably live forever, "If you ask the direct question, 'Are you Gay?' the answer is yes. So what?"

Right on the heels of the recent death from AIDS of Representative Stewart McKinney—amidst allegations that he got AIDS from homosexual encounters—and exposure of Presidential candidate Gary Hart's possible extra-marital affairs, Frank's admission is a welcomed change from the routine. In most cases, persons have had to deny rumors, or defend them. In this case, one politician had the foresight to nip any confrontation in the bud by publicly announcing his sexual orientation.

Not that any person's sexual orientation should matter. Frank himself was quoted in the Globe article as saying, "I don't think my sex life is relevant to my job... but on the other hand, I don't want to leave the impression that I'm embarrassed about my life."

Graduated from Harvard College in 1962, this 4-term representative from Massachusetts has the support of his constituents, as well as other political leaders. In a conversation I had with Representative Frank the afternoon of June 1, he told me he had been in an AIDS march with Boston Mayor Raymond Flynn. He told me Glynn "was very supportive".

Some daily newspapers covering the story this past weekend said Frank's constituents are not likely to change their votes in the future due to his acknowledging his homosexuality.

I asked him if his homosexuality was well-known on Capitol Hill, and he told me it was.

I then asked him if he had any words of encouragement to pass on to my readers regarding the difficult decision to "come out of the closet": "I can't say that I can encourage other people to do it. I'm in a somewhat more favorable position to be able to do it, and for other people it's a difficult decision. If my acknowledging that I'm Gay helps deal with that silly prejudice, if it makes it easier for other people, then I'm glad to do it."

"I really believe we'll be in a situation 20 years from now where we will have beaten the prejudice. Right now people have to proceed at their own pace. If we make as much progress in the next 20 years as we have in the last 20 years on this issue, then it will be over."

"One of the state legislators in my district... said about me, 'Hey, this [announcement] isn't going to make any difference. We like him and we like his work, and we'll support him.' 10 years ago this [announcement of being Gay] would have been the kiss of death. Yes, there is a prejudice out there, and like all prejudices, it's unjustified. But it's diminishing. The bigots are losing this fight."

I believe Representative Franks has paved the road a little wider for acceptance of homosexuality, and deserves a big round of applause for his actions. If you would like to write a note of thanks, his address is: 1030 Longworth House Office Building, Washington, DC 20515.

That's the view from here! See you next week.

LETTERS

DEAR EDITOR:

Well, another successful event has taken place here in Tucson. The Miss Gay Tucson Pageant was held at Rumor Hazzit and went off successfully.

The Pageant started out to be a fiasco due to last minute changes in location. But, Tucson pulled together and with the help of all the Tucson clubs, we got it together in three days. It was great to see all of us working together towards one goal. This is just another example of what we all can do if we stay united.

I want to express my personal thanks to all persons involved. The following is a list of Tucson people and organizations involved in organizing, setup and working the night of the Pageant. I just can't express my appreciation enough to all of you for supporting me in getting this off the ground.

Tucson, you should be proud of your clubs and support them also. These people worked really hard for all of us.

Another highlight of the evening was made by Skeeter of AA Vending. He matched the prize money of $100 to be donated to Shanti Foundation of Tucson. Quickly following, IBT's donated $200 then the Graduate matched that. A total of $500 goes to Shanti.

Thank you all for making this a memorable evening.

WORLD HEALTH ORGANIZATION CLAIMED TO HAVE ORDERED AIDS PROTECTION

by Christopher McPherson
LOS ANGELES, CA. - Dr. Robert B. Strecker at the University of Southern California County Hospital's Department of Gastroenterology, firmly asserted in an interview on June 1 that the AIDS virus was made by man at the request of the World Health Organization (WHO).

Strecker claims that, in 1972, WHO requested the production of a virus which would selectively attack the T-Cell system of man. Strecker was unclear to whom the request was issued. He says the intent was to "make cancer". When asked if WHO merely wanted to use this virus in research to develop a cure for cancer, Strecker replied, "I suppose that's what they would say."

Strecker added that WHO intended to inoculate volunteers in Africa with the virus in order to determine if the created virus could perform in ways WHO wanted. What ways, exactly, Strecker did not make clear. He adds that further support for his claims comes from the fact that WHO "put on a map where they would put (the virus), and it appears exactly where their map (said it would)."

The State Department has continually denied all reports that the AIDS virus is man-made. Scientists generally believe the AIDS virus came from a Green Monkey in Africa.
