103rd Congressional Voting Record Shows How Incumbents Stood On Key Issues for Lesbian & Gay Voters

WASHINGTON, D.C. - To help voters make informed decisions about Congressional races in time for Election Day, the Human Rights Campaign Fund (HRCF) has published an early edition of its annual report on Congressional votes of critical importance to the Lesbian and Gay Community.

The report focuses on five key votes in the U.S. House and Senate, assigning a percentage to gauge each incumbent's support on issues such as anti-Gay discrimination, Gays in the military, domestic partnerships, freedom of choice and HIV/AIDS prevention. The report was mailed nationwide to approximately 83,000 members of the Campaign Fund and it's Federal Advocacy Network.

Here are the highlights of the key congressional votes on legislation considered during the 103rd Congress:

SENATE VOTES

1. District of Columbia Domestic Partners, 7-27-93. To allow the District of Columbia to implement its ordinance by removing the prohibition attached by the House. The ordinance allows unmarried couples registered as domestic partners to be eligible for certain benefits afforded to married couples such as health insurance. Amendment was reject by a vote of 43-55, (R 8-36, D 35-19).

2. Codification of the Ban on Gays and Lesbian in the Military, 9-9-93. Vote on Sen. Barbara Boxer's (D-CA) amendment to prevent codification of the discriminatory "Don't Ask, Don't Tell" policy on Lesbians and Gays in the military. The amendment was rejected by a vote of 33-63 (R 3-38, D 30-25).

3. Freedom of Access To Abortion Clinics, 11-16-93. Passage of the bill to establish federal and criminal and civil penalties for persons who use force, the threat of force, or physical obstruction to block access to abortion clinics. The legislation passed by a vote of 69-30 (R 18-26, D 51-4).

4. HIV/AIDS Prevention, 2-8-94. Sen. Jesse Helms (R-NC) offered an amendment to require written parental consent before unemancipated minors could receive condoms or other contraceptives through a program that receives federal funds. The amendment was defeated by a vote of 34-59 (R 27-14, D 7-45).

5. Lesbian and Gay Youth. Senators Helms (R-NC) and Smith (R-NH) worked together to use the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) to prohibit any federal money from going to a school with "any program or activity, which directly or indirectly, has the purpose or effect of encouraging or supporting homosexuality as a positive lifestyle alternative." The Helms amendment was approved 63-36 (R 40-3, D 23-33).

HOUSE VOTES

1. Funding for Abortion Services, 6-30-93. Vote on Rep. Henry Hyde's (R-IL) amendment to prohibit federal funds from being spent for an abortion except in the case of rape, incest or necessity to save the life of the mother. The amendment passed by a vote of 255-178 (R 157-16, D 98-161, I 0-1).

2. Codification of the Ban on Gays and Lesbians in the Military, 9-28-93. Vote on the amendment sponsored by Rep. Marty Meehan (D-MA) to prevention the codification of the discriminatory "Don't Ask, Don't Tell" policy. The amendment was rejected by a vote of 169-264 (R 11-163, D 1517-101, I 0-1).

3. Lesbian and Gay Youth, 3-24-94. Rep. Hancock (R-MO) offered an amendment to the Elementary and Secondary Education Act to prohibit any federal money from going to a school with "any program or activity, which directly or indirectly, has the purpose or effect of encouraging or supporting homosexuality as a positive lifestyle alternative."

Rep. Jolene Unsoeld (D-WA) offered a second amendment that reinforced the notion of local school district control and stripped the federal government of any ability to enforce the anti-Gay Hancock provision. The Unsoeld amendment passed 224-194 (R-27-139, D 196-55, I 1-0).

4. Military/HIV+ Personnel, 6-8-94. Department of Defense Authorization FY95 (HR 4301) came to the floor of the House requiring automatic separation of military personnel who are HIV+. Rep Jane Harman (D-CA) offered an amendment to defer the dismissal of any servicemember to the Secretary of Defense. The Harman amendment succeeded 227-192 (R 27-144, D 199-48, I 1-0).

5. District of Columbia Domestic Partners, 7-13-94. The House approved language written by Rep. Barton (R-TX) to ban the use of money to implement DC's Domestic Partners ordinance, which allows unmarried couples registered as domestic partners to be eligible for certain benefits afforded to married cou-

Tucson Hosts 1994 IGBO Mid-Year Bowling Tournament This Weekend

1,000 Bowlers and Visitors Expected

TUCSON - Eighteen months of planning has resulted in one of the largest athletic events to take place in the Southwest. The International Gay Bowling Organization (IGBO) mid-year tournament will take place this weekend in Tucson. Shown above are representatives of the Tucson Gay Bowling League Planning Committee who are responsible in having this event take place in Tucson. See story below.

by Mark Rosenbaum
& Randy Bilbro

TUCSON - Gay and Lesbian bowlers from across the United States and Canada have begun arriving in Tucson as the International Gay Bowling Organization (IGBO) mid-year meeting and tournament gets underway tomorrow.

Tournament organizers are projecting between 400-450 participants for this four day series of events which includes tournament competition (bowling), sightseeing excursions, pumpkin carving, a special 'bar tour', a women's forum and social, and meetings of the IGBO Board of Directors and League representatives from over 100 member leagues worldwide.

Tucson Mid-year '94 is the fifth Gay and Lesbian bowling tournament to be held here in as many years, and the first instance of an Arizona city hosting IGBO. Since 1990, the Old Pueblo Invitational Tournament followed by the Halloween Invitational Tournament-Tucson (HITT) have attracted Gay and Lesbian bowlers from the Southwest and, more recently, several cities in Texas, Ohio, and Hawaii.

Planning for Tucson Mid-Year begun over 18 months ago and was built around a successful marketing campaign promising a "Warm, Wild, and Wonderful" Halloween weekend for participants. If the weather forecasts hold, the rest of the promise should be a given.

The goals for the planning committee was to involve the Gay Community of Tucson in this event, as well as to promote Tucson to other areas of the country and to our neighbor to the north.

The sightseeing excursion to Bisbee and Tombstone has been opened to the public to allow local Tucsonans and our guests from out of town to have a chance to experience some of Arizona's colorful past together. A costume party is being hosted in the ballrooms of the Ramada Inn Downtown, on Saturday night with judging being shortly after 1:00 a.m. Local participation is encouraged and the event will last until approximately 2:00 a.m.

Along the same lines, IGBOO!, our version of IGBABE, which is a traditional talent show featuring acts from the field of participants and guests, will take place on Sunday evening at 9:00 p.m. and will also be held at the Ramada Inn. Profits from this event are donated equally to a local charity and to the charity of choice in the home town of the winning act.

Bowling will take place at Golden Pin Lanes on Miracle Mile with teams bowling on Friday evening and Sunday morning and singles and doubles will span over most of Saturday. Come on out and root for your favorite bowler in any of these events!

Slique Callahan On The 'G' Word Oct. 27

TUCSON - Straight from the trailer parks around the country...This Thursday, October 27th, the "G" Word brings you the infamous comedian, Slique Callahan. Slique is making this special appearance to promote "DYKOTOMY", a Lesbian opera.

The class opera Carmen has undergone a radical rewrite by Slique's pen. Using the original music score, Slique transformed the heterosexual tale of love and obsession into DYKOTOMY, a Lesbian drama of love obsession, rejection and ultimate acceptance.

Opening for the evening will be Tucson's own Kathleen Williamson. Rochelle Raya from the Phoenix band 'Just Cuz' will also be performing.

DYKOTOMY can be seen November 4th - 6th at the Performing Arts Center in Phoenix. Curtain time is 8 PM on Friday and Saturday, and 2 PM on Sunday. Tickets are $12 in advance and $15 at the door. For more information call 747-7426 (Tucson) or 253-8099 (Phoenix).

Slique will also be making a Tucson appearance sometime soon. Watch Ain't Nobody's Bizness ads for the date. Also, Melinda is bringing Slique down for a benefit for the MPS Society. So tune in to the "G" Word, Thursday, 8 PM, on Tucson Cable channel 64 for a glimpse of what's to come.

Arizonans for Fairness Hold Tucson Fundraiser Oct. 30

TUCSON - Arizonans For Fairness (AFF), is holding a fund raiser in Tucson, Sunday, October 30th at 1728 E. 9th St, from 4 to 6 PM.

AFF is a group formed to fight the Radical Right who promotes anti-Gay discrimination, like the Idaho and Oregon's Citizen Alliances have done by placing discriminatory measures on their general election ballots.

To RSVP or for more information call 623-8389 or 744-6297.

Gay Man Makes German History

BERLIN, GER. - Volker Beck no longer has to settle for speaking at Gay Rights rallies. Parliament has now become his speaker's rostrum.

This past Sunday, Beck was elected to a seat in the German Bundestag, their federal parliament, during the national elections. Beck became the first openly Gay man to win a seat in the lawmaking lower chamber.

Skip Rimsza Elected Phoenix Mayor

PHOENIX - This past Tuesday, 15.9% of registered Phoenix voters went to the polls and elected former Phoenix City Councilman, Skip Rimsza, as Mayor of the state capital.

This was a special election, since the former Mayor Paul Johnson, had resigned to run for Governor. This election was to fill the remainder of Johnson's term which expires next year. Phoenix City Council woman, Thelda Williams, had served as interim Mayor.

Here are the final results from the special election:

Skip Rimsza	45,522	56.6%
Linda Nadolski	23,875	29.7%
G.G. George	6,412	8.0%
Greg Campbell	4,595	5.0%

Gay Sailor Ruling Is Not Challenged

LOS ANGELES, CA - The Clinton administration passed up an opportunity to challenge a court ruling that allowed reinstatement of a sailor who publicly declared his homosexuality.

The ruling affects Navy sonar operator Keith Meinhold, who revealed his homosexuality on national television in 1992. Meinhold was discharged under old military regulations that were replaced last year.

John McGuire, an attorney for Meinhold, said the Justice Department let pass a Friday deadline to appeal an August decision by a panel of the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco. That 3-0 ruling found the military can dismiss open Gays or Lesbians only if they say they intend to have homosexual sex, not for simply "coming out."

As with many issues surrounding Gays in the military, the meaning of the government's inaction was a matter of debate. A Pentagon spokesman, Dennis Boxx, said it would have no bearing on the new "don't ask, don't tell" policy, but McGuire said it would.

Wingspan Masquerade Gala Oct. 29

TUCSON - Saturday, October 29, Wingspan kicks off the fall season with its All Hallows Eve Dance from 6 to 10 PM. The music of DJs Sir Rodney Farrell and Michael Young will be featured with an intermission drag show by two members of Wingspan's Youth Group for your entertainment.

It's a Masquerade Gala, with prizes to be awarded for best costumes, but of course, costumes are optional. You can enter the dance at Bailey & Bailey Cafe, 135 S. 6th Avenue. B&B Cafe is graciously donating their space for the evening.

The dance is to benefit Wingspan, Tucson's Lesbian, Gay & Bisexual Community Center at 422 N. 4th Avenue. Wingspan is a volunteer organization supported solely by member's donations and dedicated to serving our community. Through this dance's receipts, Wingspan is trying to raise enough money to pay for the next three months rent. The suggested donation will be $5 at the door. If you're a Wingspan member, bring your membership card for a $1 discount.

To underwrite the cost of the dance, Wingspan has received magnanimous support from generous members of the local business community. Wingspan urges everyone from the Lesbian, Gay and Bisexual community to support these businesses and organizations who have made this dance possible:

a.k.a. Theatre Company, Ain't Nobody's Bizness, Antigone Books, B7B Cafe, Bentley's House of Coffee and Tea (both locations), Book Stop, Inc., Casa Video, Club 2520, FMW-Fran the Retired Banker, Kenneth D. Feldhacker Financial Planner, Tortuga Roja Bed and Breakfast, the Tucson Lesbian & Gay Alliance, and Yess Leathers.

Wingspan wishes to thank these donors and all of its faithful supporters.

Wingspan's dance last May was a great success, and we hope Saturday evening's festivities will be even better. Come meet the women and men of our community in a fresh, fun new way. Call the Wingspan InfoLine at 624-1779 for more information.

Colorado Ruling Bad News For Oregon's Measure 13

PORTLAND, OR. - The same constitutional problem that led the Colorado Supreme Court to declare that the state's anti-Gay rights law unconstitutional could pose problems for Oregon's Measure 13.

The Colorado amendment, known as Amendment 2, was declared unconstitutional by the state Supreme Court, which said the amendment denies an equal voice in government. Colorado Attorney General, Gale Norton said she would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Amendment 2, written by Colorado for Family Values, and adopted by the state's voters in 1992, by a 54% to 46% margin, would have prohibited local governments from outlawing discrimination against homosexuals.

"The right to participate equally in the political process is clearly affected by Amendment 2," Chief Justice Luis Rovira wrote for the court's 6-1 majority.

The amendment "singles out one form of discrimination and removes it redress from consideration by the normal political process," Rovira wrote.

The "fatal flaw" of Amendment 2 was that it made it impossible for a group of people to use the legislative process for its own protection, said David Schuman, a University of Oregon law professor.

"It put the political process out of their orbit by basically prohibiting state and local governments from passing Gay rights laws," said Schuman, an expert in equal protection issues.

"Measure 13 does the exact same thing," he said.

Measure 13 would overturn Gay rights laws in Portland, Corvallis, Ashland, Eugene and bar state and local governments from enacting specific protections for Gays and Lesbians in the future.

It also places restrictions on how public schools teach about homosexuality and bars governments from establishing affirmative action or hiring quotas based on homosexuality.

The measure is the Oregon Citizens Alliance's second attempt to pass a statewide measure. Voters defeated the OCA Measure 9 in 1992, so the group came back with a differently worded proposal for this year's ballot.

"It's a mainstream compromise that protects kids in public schools from promotion of homosexuality but at the same time preserves basic human rights," said Scott Lively, the OCA's state membership director.

The OCA expects Measure 13 to fare better than the Colorado law because it contains a clause that protects all citizens, including homosexuals, from discrimination, Lively said.

The clause says all citizens are guaranteed state and federal constitutional rights.

"That's ironclad," he said. "It supersedes the other parts of Measure 13 and its written right into language."

But the clause cited by Lively does nothing to make the Oregon measure different from the one in Colorado, Schuman said.

The clause, he said, means "that if Measure 13 is declared unconstitutional, it cannot be enforced. That's a completely circular piece of language.

Local sponsorship enables an occurrence of this magnitude to be brought about. Fund raising in Tucson takes on many shapes and forms, but usually at the forefront of charity are the bars and the owners, management, and staff of these establishments.

The sponsors have made an investment not only in this event, but in all that follow and we gratefully and appreciatively acknowledge the following benefactors: Venture-N, Stonewall/Eagle, Ain't Nobody's Biz, IBT's Club 2520 and the Ramada Inn Downtown.

Banners donated by Finley Distributing have been on display all week in these locales, and will be throughout the weekend to remind participants and guests which businesses helped promote the tournament. These bars will also be the featured stops on the special 'Bar Tour' Friday night and the 'tourists' will have an opportunity to win prizes on a progressive bowling mini-tourney based on scores gathered from around the town. Participants, guests and local frequenters alike, are encouraged to drop in and say "thanks!" to all of our sponsors.

The Tucson Mid-Year '94 Committee welcomes all of our participants and guests and we're positive that you'll find Tucson a spectacular place to visit, vacation, and bowl. We hope that you're enticed to see some of Arizona and the Southwest while you're here and enjoy some of the native food and culture. We know that you'll find it all "Warm, Wild, and Wonderful!"

TKO's RED SHOE CONTEST

On November 12, as I've mentioned numerous times, the Tucson Knight Owls will be holding their first "Red Shoes Contest," during their beer bust. A complete set of rules and guide lines are posted on the bulletin board at the Graduate. There are a total of 6 different categories, with another "Other", for your entry.

Entry fee is only $1, per category. This also means that if you are really energetic, you can enter more than one category, but a different pair of shoes is required for each, plus the entry fee.

The categories are as follows: A-Cowboy, B-Casual, C-Formal, D-Seasonal, E-Sport and F-Work. If your entry, you feel does not fall in one of these categories, they will, by your choice, be entered in the G-Other category.

Remember, the shoes entered has to be of the type that could be worn. If you can get your feet in a size 6, fine, enter them, but you may have to model them. Judging will be on shoes only, so do not even think about a special accenting outfit.

All entries must arrive at the Graduate no later than 3 PM. The actual contest will begin at approximately 3:30 PM, depending on the arrival of one of the judges.

The 3 judges will not know who owns each pair of shoes. They will only see a category entered and a number on them. Only I will have this information. If you have any questions that either I have not explained here, or not in the rules and guidelines listed at the Graduate, see me and I'll give you some kind of an answer.

In all cases, the decision of the judges will be final. The decision as to whether those shoes can be entered, will strictly be up to me.

The purpose of this contest is to let anyone creative show their talents, and have a little fun while doing so. Value Village would be a good source for acquiring the shoes, but remember, each and every pair, MUST BE RED. What or how you decorate them is up to you, so have fun, and lets see a lot of RED SHOES.

Just a little suggestion, these shoes could be part of your outfit worn this year for the Halloween holiday.

ARIZONA FELLOWSHIP #8

ARIZONA
FELLOWSHIP RUN

Applications for this year's Arizona Fellowship are on the bulletin boards at the Graduate, Stonewall/Eagle and the Venture-N. If you cannot locate one, have no fear because there will be plenty on hand at all three registration sites, on November 24th.

Run fee this year is only $25. For this small amount, each participant will enjoy 7 meals, 7 cocktail parties, and 8 different games. For the games, there will be 3 trophies awarded in each.

For those wishing to join us later during the run, up until midnight Friday will pay the full run fee. After that, the run fee drops to $12.50. But, by just being on the run for that Saturday and the send off brunch Sunday, you will be missing out on most of the games being played.

Now these games that will be played have all been dreamed up by members of the different co-hosting clubs and you can bet, everyone will be able to play them with no difficulty. Remember, those dreaming the games up, in a way, all are children at heart, so they could not be too difficult.

Registration will begin simultaneously at both the Graduate and the Venture-N on November 24, starting at 2:00 PM, and running until 5:00 PM. After, it will be resumed at our first stop, the Club House. Here also, a traditional Thanksgiving meal will be served by this year's Host club, Tucson Arizona Levi/Leathermen (TALL). A complete run itinerary, plus a map of all locations,

'G-Word' Highlights

Once again, here are the highlights of last week's live, broadcast of the "G" Word, seen on Tucson Cable Channel 64, Thursday's live at 8 PM. This is for those who do not have Tucson Cable.

The theme of the big broadcast was leather. The show was hosted by Tucson's own Gary "More bondage, less discipline!" Clark. Our lovely host was bestowed in a leather outfit similar to one worn by Barbara "Oh No!" Stanwick during her Big Valley Days (Yes, really!). Gary's co-host was the "G" Word's own news anchor, Stan Phalp, representing the Tucson Arizona Levi & Leather club.

Their first guest was Stan King from Shanti Foundation, who talked about the Share Bears, a group whose primary function is help the ASO's with fund raising and promoting AIDS awareness within the community.

Next on the show was The "G" spot from those queers in the hall, the "G" Boys, Jonathan Berner and Madison O'-Neil. The Boys talked about issues and other topics of concern to Gay and Lesbian youth.

News followed with this week's co-host; anchorman Stan Phalp and celebrity guest host, Dani Reid, subbing for "G" Word's own version of Patty Weiss, Vince Ropol, who was feeling just a little less than perky. Stan and Dani informed of us of the week's news highlights.

After the news, "G" Word's Political Commentator, Mark "I need a time cue!" Kerr, ended the news segment on the ballot propositions on the November general election ballot.

The "G" Word had their cameras at the recent Tucson Pride Picnic, and the big broadcast featured highlights from the festivities.

The second guest on the show was Desert Leatherman's own Bert Hoop. Hoop talked about the leather lifestyle, Desert Leatherman and their meaning, and the future activities of the club.

Highlights from the Ninth Annual Observer Benefit followed, with clips from the festivities. The Slap of the Week went to the 103rd Congress for their anti-Gay, Lesbian, HIV/AIDS activities. The Pat on the Butt went to the Observer Benefit for the $11,000 raised for People With AIDS Coalition-Tucson, and the Shanti Foundation, to help provide services for those living with HIV/AIDS.

MY TURN . . .

by Rev. Douglas Morgan Strong

I knew that Rob wouldn't live very long. When your body weight drops by over thirty pounds in three months; and when it takes more energy than you can muster to walk to the kitchen its obvious that more of your life has passed than shall present itself.

During a moment of "getting his affairs in order" Rob had asked me if I would lead his memorial service. I was honored and agreed. It was easy to say yes, I liked Rob. He was lively and playful young man whose smile was both infectious and filled with mischief.

Like so many men who grew up in small town America and ventured into the big city Gay life, Rob wanted a community which nurtured his soul; expanded his horizons and released his spirit. He found he could celebrate his Gayness without shame; and did so with unfettered delight.

He was a bartender at a variety of Gay joints, some fancy, other sleazy. He loved his life. His family was confused and bewildered. They didn't understand what drew him to abandon his education, his potential, his future. They weren't disappointed, just dazed.

Rob died at twenty six. He didn't happen to have a lover, so naturally the hospital and doctors and social workers turned to his parents for guidance and answers.

They bypassed his friends, and the community be chose as his own. It happens all to often.

A memorial service is a gathering for those remaining, a time to honor and remember; a time to respect and admire. It needs to capture the spirit of the deceased and pay tribute to his memory. This can be difficult when the dearly departed lived in two distinct worlds.

Planning the memorial service became a special struggle and a special gift. How to balance two vastly different worlds, filled with totally divergent casts of characters, and honor the needs of each?

I spent an evening speaking with his family. His brother wondered, "We are an all American family. I don't know anyone who has AIDS, how can this be happening to us?" His mother asked, "Rob was a genius, why did he turn his back on his education and settle for being a bar tender." His father lamented, "I never could connect with him, his interests were foreign to me, I feel I failed him."

They told me a lot of his childhood history, it was all they knew of their son. They never saw his zest for life, nor his enthusiasm for being Gay. They never knew that Rob.

I spent an evening with his friends. They told me about Rob's playfulness, his enthusiasm, his wild times, his joy and his delight with being an out Gay man. I told them of his childhood, his incredible academic excellence, his degree in Genetic Engineering. They were shocked. They had no idea. They never knew that Rob.

The sanctuary was full of people from two worlds. A cluster of relatives comforted itself towards the front while a gaggle of Gay men hugged each others towards the back. A silver haired aunt in pearls and polyester sat next to a man in leather with a ring through his nose.

Bar tenders in chaps and vests mingled with cousins in suits and ties. There were several very thin and frail men who shared the bond of illness with Rob along with elderly relatives with walkers.

I looked out from the pulpit and was overwhelmed by the divisions in his life which were so clearly unfolding in the pews. I knew that this service was no less meaningful for the pierced nose colleague than for the polyester aunt. Grief is not confined go any pre-defined life style nor is it excluded from any other. The room was filled with mourners each who knew Rob in a special way.

I have attended too many funerals where a man's chosen life style is overlooked in favor of resurrecting a childhood existence which didn't reflect or honor the person. It always seemed wrong to me. Many Unitarian Universalists have rejected the religion of their childhood and when they die we don't return to that religious path as the foundation for a funeral. We don't offer a Catholic Mass just because the person once was Catholic. We take folks where they are today, not where they have been. We don't expect a former spouse to help plan the service.

Too often such services favor the family at the expense of the friends. Too often clerics and funeral homes and hospitals and newspapers shun away from a celebration of the person's chosen life rather than his birth life. And too often those of us who sit in such services simply shrug off this painful and even rude exclusion as the price we must pay for being different.

To whom does the minister listen? The family who may wish you to avoid certain words, or topics, or causes of death? The friends who knew a radically different man and need to have their grief coddled and cared for as well?

The sadness lies in the separation. There is no need, in a truly caring world, for such separation. As we age and grow and experience life in novel and challenging ways, naturally we shall mold and shape our own special kind of existence. Our lives are a tangled web of experiences. Our families deserve to know who we are and our friends deserve to see who we have been. Each deserves to know the other.

Rob, like so many who are different in our world, chose to keep his lives segregated and apart. Friendship and loves; interests and attitudes developed within each world and he would step between them gingerly and with fear.

His worlds flirted with each other at his memorial service. Each listened and learned of the other through the words of the eulogy. At the reception which followed, I noticed little co-mingling. The bar crowd drank coffee; the relatives munched sweets. Each felt out of place and awkward.

A few adventuring folks crossed the line and chatted with the other side,

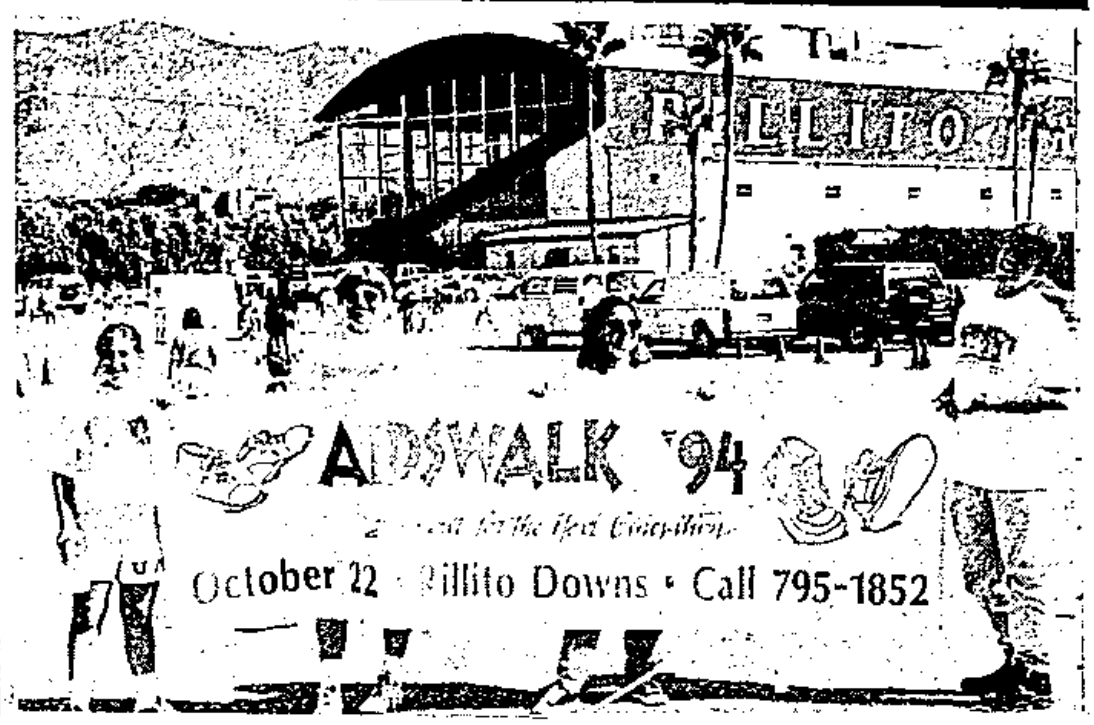
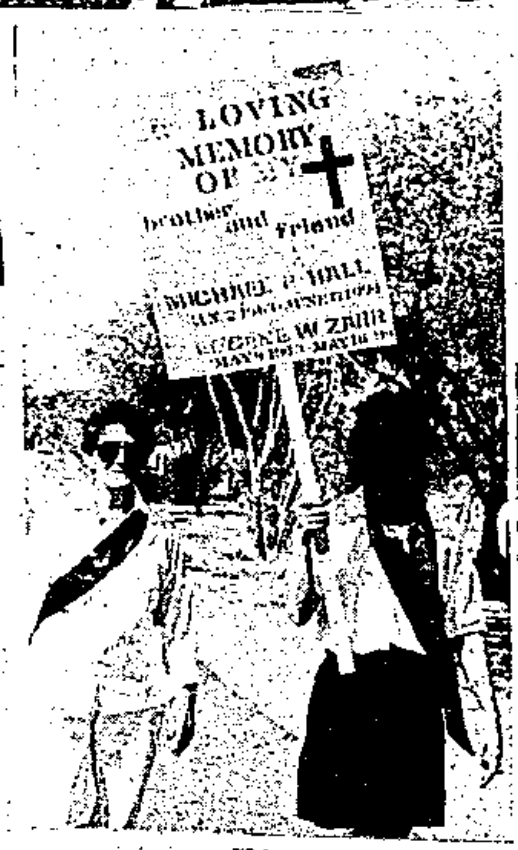
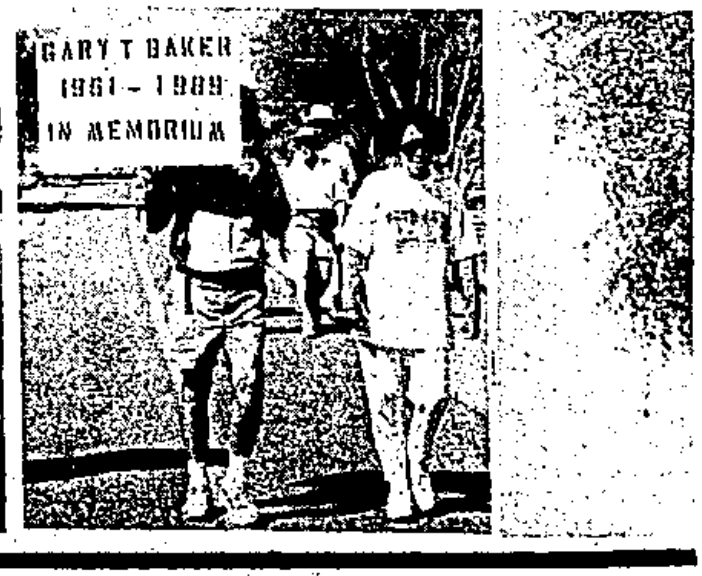
Step out for the Next Generation







POLITICS '94 by Mark Kerr

A vast array of political potpourri, (all right horse manure!) to cover this week so on with the big column cast:

PROPOSITIONS 200 & 201: Proposition 200 proposes to increase the state tax on cigarettes, cigars and other tobacco products and use the additional revenue generated for health care and for education and research related to preventing and reducing tobacco use. Here is the proposed tax rate:

ITEM	FROM	NEW RATE
Cigarettes (pack)	18 cents	58 cents
Smoking tobacco, snuff, fine cut, chewing tobacco & granulated tobacco, shorts and refuse	2 cents per oz.	6.5 cents per oz.
Cavendish, plug or twist tobacco	half cent per oz.	1.6 cents per oz.
Small cigars (not weighing more than 3# per 1000)	4 cents per 20	12.9 cents per 20
Cigars (retailing 5 cents or less)	2 cents per 3	6.4 cents per 3
Cigars (retailing 6 cents or more)	2 cents each	6.4 cents each

The money that would be collected from the additional tax rates would be apportioned automatically, without legislative appropriation, review or approval and used as follows:

70% to providing medical and health care services to persons who are indigent or who are medically needy or who are low income through the state's AHCCS Program.

23% to programs to prevent and reduce tobacco use through public health education programs.

5% to medical research into preventing and treating tobacco related disease and addiction.

2% to supplement the Department of Corrections budget due to the drop in tobacco use, cut in revenue.

Proposition 200 would also impose a state tax on cigarettes, cigars and other tobacco products purchased on Indian reservations (unless sold by the tribe or a licensed Indian trader to an enrolled member of that tribe). The state tax would be at the same rate as the new, additional rates set by this Proposition for off reservation purchases, less the amount of any applicable tribal tax.

Proposition 201 would make it illegal to use certain methods of taking "wildlife" on public land, including federal, state, county and municipal land. The listed devices that would be prohibited are "any leghold trap, any instant kill body gripping design trap, or by a poison or a snare". This proposition would not prohibit:

1. The use of a prohibited device by a governmental health department for health and safety protection and surveillance.

2. Legal hunting or fishing with authorized weapons, fishing equipment or other "implements in hand."

3. Falconry

4. Using snares, traps that are not designed to kill and nets for scientific research or regulated wildlife relocation.

5. Using poisons and nets for regulated aquatic wildlife management.

6. Using traps and poisons to control non-furbearing rodents.

Arizona law defines the term "wildlife" as all wild mammals, wild birds and their nests and eggs, reptiles, amphibians, mollusks, crustaceans and fish, including their eggs and spawn (ARS section 17-101).

These restrictions and conditions would not apply to activities on private property.

STAR EDITORIAL BOARD HAS AMNESIA: In their 10-9-94 edition of the paper. The Arizona Daily Star endorsed Rick Lyons in the recall election for County Assessor.

In the endorsement, the Star said of the other candidates that any of them would be a welcome change from Alan Lang.

About the contenders, citing two, the Star said that former Assessor, Rex "Wouldn't" Waite, who had lost to Lang in the '92 general election, "He did a credible job in his short tenure...." Also, that candidate Ralph Armenta, "...is another assessor office veteran...who ran unsuccessfully in 1988 and 1992."

This is interesting because, in the case of "Couldn't" Waite back in 1992, 10-27, the Star endorsed Waite over Lang stating, "Waite has a reform minded philosophy...is the better candidate for assessor. Waite articulates a clearer more active agenda for his office."

On 10-29, the Star breaks a story about alleged politicking on the job and intimidation by Waite. On 11-1, the Star retracts their endorsement of Waite citing concerns about the story of intimidation and politicking by Waite.

About Armenta, the Star in their Assessor's endorsement in 1988, 10-17, said that "voters deserve more straightforward answers, but Armenta doesn't have a problem with sketchy promises. Quoting Armenta, 'taxpayers don't know want to know how the system works.' Armenta's attitude is not only insulting to the public, it's dangerously cavalier philosophy for a potential public servant. About the 1992 primary, 8-28, the Star said of Armenta's ideas, "...do not bear scrutiny."

Hey Editorial Board, don't you ever read what your write? Probably not or you all have a big case of amnesia!

WILD WEST!: Tony West (R) is the current occupant of the State Treasurer's office. West is running for reelection this year and faces Democratic challenger Brad Forst (D).

Recently the Arizona Republic, in a story stated that West, State Treasurer, is one of the founding directors of the Arizona Christian Coalition, a right wing, anti-Gay religious fundamentalist organization founded by the head of the Christian Broadcasting Network (CBN), Pat Robertson.

In the incorporation papers filed with the Arizona Corporation Commission, West is listed as "W.A. West Jr.," his formal name. His name on the No-

From The POOP SHEET
by Ace Lundon

Well kiss ma' grits and butter ma' buns! What you don't find out when you're not afraid to ask! I've been doing sort of a mini-survey of acquaintances this past half-year and it's surprised me to learn how most are hung-up with the insane idea that we choose to be homosexual at some point in life. Now these are not even folks who are homophobic; these are folks who have many Gay and Lesbian friends. Blew me away!! I also thought their questioning would be the age-old "well, what do two people of the same sex really do in bed?" Only a few asked that question.

Yet the real question on their minds seemed to be "when did I chose to become Gay?"

Well, let me tell you; IF I did choose it, it certainly wasn't it this body in this lifetime.

If anyone thinks they can go back to that moment when they think they chose to be a homosexual, I believe I can, as I've done in the past when I was counseling in Psychology, take that person to that so-called moment of choice and through examination allow them to realize it was not a matter of choice but rather a matter of recognition.

Upon recognizing who they really were, it became a time of acceptance of being who they'd always been. It wasn't a choice to become something they never were before. They didn't choose to be heterosexual nor homosexual; they just were what they were and recognizing that, it became their choice to accept what they were.

Now, when this reality hits us between the eyes, it almost feels like we've been "born again", the same feeling of the religious "born again" experience.

The reality is that we are what we have been. We recognize what we have been as our reality. We choose to accept (or reject) what we are. And, by so doing we sometimes "feel" like it is we who have made a choice to be Gay. It's simply a matter or step in recognizing our true self and accepting.

A few of the acquaintances, asked, if, when I came out of my closet, wasn't that when I chose to be Gay.

I was forty years old when I stepped out of my closet! My dear! I'd known I was a homo for decades. I'd been struggling with this fact of life; wrestling in my dreams and awakening in puddles of sweat. It is an inconceivable idea to think that "coming out" has anything to do with making a choice to be Gay or Lesbian. "Coming out" only means that we've had it up to here with our lying self; we've grown too tired to continue in any more struggles; too tired of putting up with the crap which society has imposed; too tired of allowing ignorance to continue. "Coming out" may be a choice on our part but the choice is that "we are not going to take this any more!" It is not the making of a choice to be a homosexual.

My life-mate knew he was attracted to men in a sexual manner when he was twelve. We always used to joke about the fact that he definitely developed early-on in life. I was a little slow I guess but I definitely knew I was "interested" in men by the age of 15. Neither of us, we concluded, chose to be the way we were. Our love and attraction for members of our own sex was a natural as falling off a log. But, as Billie Jean King stated a few years back: "Life isn't always so cut and dried." What I'm saying is that both my life-mate and I also had heterosexual experiences; he at age 15 with a neighbor lady and I was 28 when I wanted to prove that it was possible in spite of who/what I was. I learned that if the right spot were tickled and I could close my eyes and fantasize, heterosexual sex was not only probable it was possible. My life-mate concluded that he was probably more Bisexual than I was even though I'd had many more heterosexual experiences than he had. We concluded it was because he was much more into oral sex and turned on because of that response. Anyway, Billie Jean was correct even for those of us who are Gay or Lesbian as life certainly isn't a cut and dried affair when it comes to sexuality.

What is cut and dried is that we either accept of reject what and who we really are in this lifetime. To reject ourselves as the sexual beings we are, whether heterosexual, homosexual, bisexual, "try-sexual", or you name it, is to reject reality. This is cause for concern to anyone involved in psychology. Those who reject reality can only find themselves embroiled in one mess after another in their futures. Because my generation learned this fact of life the hard way with most of us staying in our closets for decades, I can speak from personal experience how closet-living can screw up a life.

When one makes the decision to live in their reality, even if it's "poopy", it proves to be far better from a mental, physical and emotional health standpoint, even if it gets rough as hell when you're truthful, the freedom of being you experience could not be purchased for a billion dollars.

And that's the straight poop from the Poop Sheet!

Tucson Community Foundation Announces Grant Availability for HIV/AIDS Related Services

TUCSON - The Tucson Community Foundation (TCF) has $60,000 available in funding for organizations that educate people about HIV/AIDS prevention or provide services to people living with HIV/AIDS, Jane Conklin, TCF grants coordinator announced.

She added that the grant guidelines are very specific, interested applicants should call for a copy of the guidelines. Proposals are due at 5:00 p.m. October 28, 1994.

This funding is made available through a joint program of TCF and the National Community AIDS Partnership, which is a national HIV/AIDS philanthropic organization composed of 300 national and local corporations and foundations.

Priorities for funding at the local level were established by an allocations panel created by the Tucson HIV/AIDS Care Consortium, a group of local organizations providing HIV/AIDS services and individuals assisting in providing a community response to the HIV/AIDS crisis. Sixth North American Queer Studies Conference In Iowa Nov. 17-20

IOWA CITY, IA - The University of Iowa will host the midwest premier of the North American Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Studies Conference, InQueery/In Theory/In Deed from November 17-20, 1994 on The University of Iowa campus in Iowa City. In previous years, the conference has been hosted by Harvard, Princeton, Rutgers and Yale. More than fifteen hundred participants are expected from nearby and around the world, including scholars, activists and artists.

According to Conference Co-Chair Meredith Alexander, this year's conference is designed to appeal to a wide variety of interests and experience. The schedule includes scholarly papers, performances and exhibits, panel discussions and practical problem solving workshops.

Keynote speakers at this year's conference are: Gloria Anzaluda, Chicana theorist, activist, author of Borderlands, and Friends from the Other Side/Amigos del Otro Lado, and co-editor of the indispensable feminist text This Bridge Called My Back: Writings by Radical Women of Color; Lani Ka'ahumanu, Hawaiian activist, Bisexual, HIV educator, co-editor of Bi Any Other Name, and speaker at the 1993 March on Washington; and Tim Miller, Performance artist, activist, teacher, member of ACT UP-L.A. and one of the "NEA Four" whose unanimously recommended solo performer fellowship was denied because of its content.

Over 500 papers and panel proposals and over 70 proposed workshops were received from writers and speakers at every level. This year's conference organizers chose to expand the usual emphasis of Gay studies on literary or performance theory criticism to include innovative research by anthropologists, sociologists, philosophers, doctors, lawyers, and activists. The result is a breadth of work that addresses international, cross cultural, theoretical, and political issues of sexuality and race in the USA, with special attention to African American, Asian American, Latino, and Native American cultures, as well as Bisexuality and transexuality. Says Co-Chair Alexander, "This year's conference is particularly meaningful coming as it does 25 years after the manifesto at Stonewall to never be silent of invisible again."

For more information on the conference or to request a registration form, call 1-319-335-2092 or write to InQueery, InTheory, InDeed c/o Center for Conferences and Institutes, Iowa Memorial Union, The University of Iowa, Iowa City, IA 52242. You may also reach the Co-Chairs on the Internet at: geeta-patel@uiowa.edu.

HATE IS NOT A FAMILY VALUE

A View From The Rock

A Commentary From Cornerstone Fellowship

How important is what we believe? Isn't it more important that we just believe in something and live true to that belief? If our beliefs helps us to survive in this world, isn't that what really counts? Is there absolute truth, or is everything in life so relative that our understanding must sway to and fro in the wind?

We all have definite beliefs about different things, but the emphasis today seems to be on the very act of believing, more than on any real object of belief. Whatever works for you is right for you and whatever works for me is right for me is the philosophy of today. Is that what truth is really all about? Does it depend on you and me? Will the strength of our beliefs create truth?

The Bible emphasize that what a person believes is vital. The emphasis is not so much the act of believing as on the object of belief. Belief is only as good as the object in which we put our trust, according to Scripture, so upon what or whom shall we place our faith?

The apostle Paul tells us that the existence of our divine Creator is made evident through his creation: "For since the creation of the world God's invisible qualities, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made, so that men are without excuse." (Romans 1:20 NIV)

God created humanity to be eternal, existing in fellowship with him. Humanity broke that fellowship through the sin of disobedience, but God, through his everlasting love and mercy, made a way to bridge the gap between himself and humanity through the sacrifice of his only begotten son, Jesus Christ. Jesus tells us: "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the father but by me." (John 14:6 KJV) Our faith in the son of God does not determine whether or not we are eternal, but it does determine where we will spend eternityi. Without Jesus, we are condemned to spend eternity separated from our loving Creator.

Our eternal existence is something very difficult to completely grasp, since it is beyond the realm of our total understanding. However, our faith or lack of faith in Jesus has far greater consequences than, for instance, neglecting a tune-up or forgetting to put oil in our car, forcing us to purchase a new engine. Our faith deals with the future of our eternal soul. We cannot purchase eternal life ourselves. The price has already been paid. Nothing we do can change this fact. Our lives upon this earth are but a flicker compared with eternity. If our focus is fixed solely on what may serve us in this world, the cost will be very great.

There are those who feel that the strength of our beliefs will allow us to create our own reality. While perseverance is good, and trying to do the best at whatever we do is commendable, belief will not create fact. Truth is independant of belief. I may believe that my old Chevy is a new Mercedes, but my belief won't change the fact that it isn't! People may believe that the biblical story of creation is a myth, and that Jesus was merely a wise man and a teacher, but that won't change the fact that he is our saviour. And we can't change our eternal destiny from condemnation to salvation through the strength of our will.

There is absolute truth. It is not dependent upon you or me. The very laws of nature, created by God, are evidence of this. The most important absolute truth is this: "He that believeth on the son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him." (John 3:36 KJV)

Running Circles Around the Competition or Running Around in Circles?

1st Annual 'Heart of the West' Festival

LAS VEGAS, NV - Combine the best of a womyn's music festival with the sizzle of Las Vegas, it's here, a hotel fest! PLUS (People Like Us) Productions is excited to announce the first annual Heart of the West Fest: The Desert of Festivals in Las Vegas, Nevada on November 4, 5 and 6. Inaugurating a new era in womyn's music, Heart of the West Fest has taken the best of beautiful crafts, workshops, dance competition and spectacular performers every night, to the luxurious Hacienda Hotel and Casino on the glittering strip in Las Vegas for unique and glamorous "land cruise" womyn's weekend.

Maile Klein and Maria Hodgini of PLUS Productions

Heart of the West Fest kicks off at noon on Friday, November 4 and ends Sunday evening at midnight in the 22,000+ square foot convention center, complete with four restaurants, a deli, ice cream parlor, tennis courts, gorgeous pool and 1,000+ square foot dance floor.

Each day will offer a variety of workshops with a full range of interesting topics and a womyn's crafts area. There will also be daily dance classes and dance competitions for great prizes. Other special options include RV parking, reserved seating and an airport shuttle. Two lucky participants will win tickets to Costa Rica on a RSVP all womyn's cruise which will be raffled off during the weekend.

Friday evening begins with a lavishly catered Welcoming Cocktail Party and entertainment, followed by an intimate show with Lucie Blue Tremblay in the Barcelona Room, a short break to hit the casinos, then onto hilarious comedy with JoAnn Loulan, Karen Williams and Dos Fallopia. Wait the night' snot over, dance away to DJ sounds or delight yourself in the Cactus Cabaret with the talents of Sue Fink, Ubaka, The Rhythm Method, Lisa Koch and much more!

Highlighting Saturday evening is a formal dance featuring the Big Band sounds of Maiden Voyage All Stars (they leave for a tour of Japan after this event) and a sit down dinner. Followed by a mix of music, womyn's entertainment in the Cactus Cabaret or, of course, the casinos will be open, you choose!

Sunday you can get up early and shop, take in a few workshops or perhaps you'll want to sleep late, but Producers Maile Klein and Marina Hodgini say, "be sure to join us for the South of the Border catered brunch with the Latin/Salsa sounds of Azucar-y-Cremar. They're too hot to miss." The afternoon features more workshops or the tremendous talents on stage graced by Jamie Anderson, Alix Dobin and The Derivative Duo. Don't miss these hilarious "dicey divas" showing off their operatic voices. You'll have only a short break before the feet stomping music of Flowers & McLaren kick off the Big Hoedown with Maile and Marina, featuring music by Pam & Maggie.

The producers of PLUS Productions are "music mavens" Maile Klein and Marina Hodgini. Both come from a long history in theater production and choreography. They have four instructional dance videos, five years of touring with the major music festivals and many national, as well as local, events, Maile says, "From start to finish this is a weekend show you won't want to miss." From their years of productions they plan to make this an event reminiscent of an opening night on Broadway, "your eyes wide open and you heart beating wildly from excitement."

This unique luxury womyn's dance and music extravaganza is only $299 per person for the 3 day/2 night package if you register before September 15. Additional nights, Sunday through Thursday, are only $36. Festival passes only, are also available. Plan now, don't miss the first annual Heart of the West Fest in sizzling Las Vegas!

Home On The Range With AGRA-Tucson

by RY

Plans are being finalized for Chile Verde Days '95, to be held at Club 2520 on November 19 & 20. The annual two day event is one of the major fund raisers AGRA holds to help raise the need funds to host the annual Saguaro Regional Rodeo.

The festivities will begin at 4 PM on November 19 and continue throughout the evening and will then resume at 4 PM at Sunday, November 20. There will be plenty of casino action for those who wish to try their luck at the tables. There will also be live entertainment with plenty of dancing and fun for everyone. The AGRA Jail will be set up for those of you that want to have that special (or not so special) someone incarcerated. Game booths will be set up outside on the patio and the AGRA Fund Raising Committee will be doing their Balloon Bust. A new event will be added this year: The Boots & Briefs Auction. This event should be a lot of fun and quite interesting to say the least. Quite a few people are already signed up for this event.

The entire weekend promises to be filled with plenty of fun, food, and spirits for everyone. Mark your calendars now. Be where the action us: The '95 Chile Verde Days.

The November Meetings will be held in conjunction with Chile Verde Days at Club 2520. Board Meeting will take place on November 20 at 2 PM. General Membership Meeting will start at 4 PM.

Have you seen the fabulous AGRA Fun Raising T-shirts and Dress Shirts? The T-shirts are silk screen and the dress shirts are embroidered. Both are now available to the public. The T-shirts are selling for $12 each and the dress shirts are $20 for the embroidery. We ask that you provide your own dress shirt and AGRA will get the embroidery work done for a cost of $20 each.

We will have the Official Saguaro Rodeo T-Shirt ready for sale during the Chile Verde Days. The design is the same as that being used on the Official Saguaro Regional Rodeo Poster. Thanks to Damien Trejo for a wonderful design.

Congratulations to Gilda Fatale (Rodney Shanks), our current Miss AGRA. Gilda competed for Miss IGRA this past weekend during finals in Denver and came back 1st Runner Up to Miss IGRA. Way to go Gilda. Congratulations on a job well done. We're all extremely proud of you.

Are any of you missing any belt loops on your pants? Seems one of our Board Members has a Belt Loop Fetish. He was seen ripping the belt loops off of several of our members pants this past weekend. We need to control those sexual urges-BILL! Kind of kinky if you ask me, but to each his own. By the way, how is Jose Cuevo?

I hear Regin Velasquez (Haliboo) has found her Prince Charming. Can't wait till your big debut darling.

will be supplied to you at the registration.

Housing for all out of town guests will be on a first come, first supplied basis. Also, a block of 10 rooms has been reserved at the Rodeway Inn, 1365 W. Grant Road, and the cost will only be $42.00 each, accommodating up to 4 people each. For anyone wishing to rent one of these rooms, it will be your responsibility to do so by calling Carolyn at 228-2000, Rodeway Inn. At the last AFCOM meeting, I was told that 4 of those rooms has already been reserved so if you want one, you had better call real soon.

This annual run in the largest of this nature, (more than one club sponsoring or hosting), in the Southwest. And, each year, whether it is held in Tucson or in Phoenix, always brings in a lot of out of towner's and people from other states. We even have had people from Canada, and from as far away as Alanta, Ga. The entire weekend is for good Fellowship and Camaraderie!

For now, I hope everyone is enjoying our Wildcats, even if they stumbled once. The Red and Blue is headed for the Roses. With the Oregon Ducks big victory last weekend, you know they will be waiting for the Wildcats, hoping for another upset. Each game from now on, including this coming one, victories are needed to guarantee a Rose Bowl trip this year. Remember, the Wildcats, since joining the Pack 10, is the only team that has not made this trip, but this will be our year.

Now, for something a little different, this coming Saturday at the Graduate, DL will be hosting a beer bust. It is not often the Clubs in Tucson have an open weekend, 5 weekends in a month. With October having one, DL will be making a guest appearance. I wonder if it being Halloween, will the DL members be in costume? Also, who will be wearing the earring? Lets all go down and give them our normal great Graduate support, and have some fun.

With that I guess it is time to shut up for this week.

HOROSCOPES

BY C. LICHTENSTEIN

The Sun changes signs this week, moving from balanced and diplomatic, Libra to passionate Scorpio. Yikes, there are now four planets in Scorpio, not counting spry Mercury which just retrograded back into Libra. Are we all just a tad intense now? Read ahead to see how the Scorpio excites your sign:

ARIES
MARCH 21 - APRIL 20

I know I rattle on about sex and more sex for you at this time, but the Sun in Scorpio keeps most of your energies on the hotbed of hot beds. Thank goodness, Aries have the energy to keep going and going. There is also the chance you are truly reevaluating your inner motivations and desires. Are you happy with who you are and what you've become? Ask Dr. Lichtenstein.

TAURUS
APRIL 21 - MAY 21

The cluster of planets in Scorpio now includes the Sun. Lucky you! Partnerships take on a new, intense focus and you may be able to charge up an otherwise drab relationship. This area influences others needs and desires. You can offer new insights and support to current partners or ascertain others' needs and therefore attract new associations. You are always the charmer.

GEMINI
MAY 22 - JUNE 21

Work, work, work. Is that all there is to life? Perhaps, now that the Sun has entered Scorpio. with so many planets hovering in Scorpio, you may feel that the job is the be all and all of your existence. On the bright side, the strong and passionate energy will enable you to accomplish a tremendous amount of work in a relatively short amount of time and with as much political impact as possible.

CANCER
JUNE 22 - JULY 23

The Sun in Scorpio warms up your more creative side. It may be hard for you to concentrate on the mundane and hum drum, but, since, you may be able to whip up a new solution to an old, nasty problem, do apply this energy to the day to day. You may have the urge to dance, perform, compose or paint. Try it yourself of watch others do it. All of this delightful artistic energy could lead to romance a quick flirt or two.

LEO
JULY 24 - AUGUST 23

Your home sparkles with activity now that the Sun has moved into Scorpio. Find an excuse (as if you need one) to gather compadres and other folk to the old homestead for a nice dinner party. You will find your surroundings especially comforting now and may get a few new decorating ideas in the process. Above all, learn to relax and be exactly who you want to be; family dictates be damned!

VIRGO
AUGUST 24 - SEPTEMBER 23

You manage to maintain a certain bite to your communications when the Sun enters Scorpio. Observations are spot on as you are able to make your point very clearly and very sharply. The Sun's placement also enables you to read between the lines, delving deep into others' motives. Ferret out the impostors and go in for the kill; Virgos during this burning sun, take no prisoners.

LIBRA
SEPTEMBER 24 - OCTOBER 23

Let the Sun in Scorpio shine on your investments. Scorpion energy in your area of money enables you to purposefully and strategically generate the greatest bang for your buck. In order to reap the greatest benefit, ask for advice and do your money management homework. The do what you must to guarantee yourself a nice soft nest egg.

SCORPIO
OCTOBER 24 - NOVEMBER 22

The Sun in your own sign dramatically pushes you into the limelight. Use your considerable talent to manipulate the crowd to your way of thinking. First impressions go well so use this time to meet influential people who can help you along. It is the true Scorpio that can turn the key to open doors of opportunity. I believe you are well up to the task.

SAGITTARIUS
NOVEMBER 23 - DECEMBER 22

Intuition is on target. What more do you need when the Sun is in Scorpio? Volunteer and serve those in need. It's time to give back to the community, so get that good karma going. A suggestion: you may want to get more involved on the political level. Use your talents to fortify grassroots movements to push our candidates and our agenda.

CAPRICORN
DECEMBER 23 - JANUARY 20

Friends come to the rescue with the Sun in Scorpio. You are able to rely on others to help you out of a jam. Conversely, you may be called upon to do your duty for a friend in need. Don't worry: The Sun's magnificent energy makes all this effort worth it. You can feel proud of who you are and with whom you surround yourself. Let us be judged by the company we keep.

AQUARIUS
JANUARY 21 - FEBRUARY 19

Career opportunities practically fall into your lap when the Sun enters Scorpio. Look ahead as in chess game. You are able to use the scorpion energy to carve out that perfect political scheme and ply it to your advantage in professional matters. Grab the gusto while you can. It's not often that you can play the politico in the old shark tank. Grab a fin and go for a joy ride.

PISCES
FEBRUARY 20 - MARCH 20

If you seem to yearn farther horizons and exotic travel, blame it on the Sun in Scorpio heating up an urge. Now you must attain a global perspective and judge your life philosophy against a larger framework. It should offer you a chance to change the way you deal with stress and frustration. At the very least, you will be more content with your personal lifestyle.

For best results, read both Sun sign and your Ascendant. For a free calculation of your ascendant, send birthdate, time. place, name of this paper and s.a.s.e. to Lichtenstein, POB 1726, Old Chelsea Station, NY 10011.

'Eyes To The Sky'

SEATTLE, WA - The sky was ablaze with color over Seattle, Washington, as the first Rainbow Kite Festival "Pride In The Sky" took to the air. The attendance was estimated to be over one hundred people. Fun was had by young and old alike.

Jim Webber from Gay Fathers Association of Seattle and his daughters Claire and Amanda were present for the festivities. "This has been a perfect day," Webber said. "The girls are having the time of their lives."

There were kites of all shapes and sizes. Everything from geometric designs and a flying shark, flown by more serious kite enthusiasts, many of whom were equipped with the latest apparatus, to do it yourself kites decorated with colorful designs and personal messages.

Along with the fun there was also an important message sent. "We wanted an event which showed Lesbians, Gay, Transgender and Bisexual parents, uncles, aunts, and friends celebrating and having fun with children and with each other," said Carol Landis, co-founder of the Rainbow Kite Festival Committee. "Our aim is to create positive images of the existing diversity among families in the community." "What didn't dawn on me until the kites were in the air," she said, "was how all our perspectives are looking up." Likening it to a more traditional symbol of optimistic hope, she added "All eyes were focused on the sky, nobody was judging the person next to them."

The Rainbow Kite Festival Committee plans to make "Pride In The Sky" an annual Seattle occurrence. The goal is to see this event take off around the country, everywhere the love of family and fun can be found.

vember 8th ballot is listed as Tony West.

When reached for reaction, Democratic Candidate for State Treasurer Brad Forst questions Tony West's "pattern of behavior" as Treasurer.

"Tony's attempt to disguise his leadership role in organizing Pat Robertson's Christian Coalition in Arizona is just the latest example of his failure to be forthright with the people of Arizona. The people have the right to know what he (West) is up to," Forst said. [Ain't that the truth!]

END NOTES: This past week, the Rotary Club of Tucson held a debate between the gubernatorial contenders. Just before it, Ward 4 City Councilmember Roger "The Dodger" Sedlmayr (D) and Pima County Attorney Steve Neely (D) came out and endorsed Republican J. Fife Whitebread in his bid for re-election. [Figures, if these two are really Democrats, then I am a raging heterosexual! NOT!]

Republican Senatorial candidate, Jon "Vile" Kyl talks about how Sam Coppersmith is such a big spender and how he voted with Bill Clinton 85% of the time. [Hey Jon, what about your slavish votes for the budget's during the "Roaring 80's which blew up the budget deficit to trillions of dollars.

[Kyl should talk, and frankly could you honestly vote for a person who would drive in an old car, with no air conditioning, not checking the coolant in the radiator, during the middle of a hot Arizona Summer day, to Phoenix? Can you support somebody who do something that dumb?]

Bravo to St. Rep. Herschella Horton (D-District 14), who in this past Sunday's election profile in the Arizona Daily Star stated that one of her priorities is to increase funding for AIDS Education and prevention programs. [Now there is someone with political courage in a state that is definitely lacking!]

Lastly, embattled Pima County Assessor, Alan Lang, soon to be recalled from office, in a recent interview, blames all the troubles in his office to his Chief Deputy, Tom Naifeh. [Gee Alan, you appointed him to the post. A leader is one who takes credit and the blame, and the record shows you are to blame for the mess, and it is a big one!]

So it goes!

Colorado Ruling

The Colorado decision comes as no surprise to the OCA, which expects the constitutionality of both Colorado's law and Oregon's, should Measure 13 pass, to be decided in the U.S. Supreme Court, Lively said.

Before Measure 13 can make it to the Supreme Court, it first has to pass in the November 8 election. If that happens, ACLU lawyer Charles Hinkle said he will file a lawsuit to have it declared unconstitutional.

And should it wind up on appeal before the Oregon Supreme Court, the Colorado court's opinion of whether or not such measurers violates the federal constitution that doesn't control what the Oregon court might say.

The Oregon court could look at the same issue and find the measure constitutional. Still, Tuesday's decision is not good news for Measure 13, Schuman said.

The (Colorado) court's ruling will be persuasive authority if not controlling authority," he said.

but for the most part the two worlds of our friend Rob stayed out of each other's way. Even death didn't nudge people to reach out to that which is different.

It was a pity. Each has lost something significant but won't be able to fully grieve and heal because they don't know enough of one another to offer what is needed.

Keep the faith, friends.
